KEYNOTE SPEAKER

THE LEADERSHIP BACKPACK

Holding strong to the belief that educational change comes from finding the green shoots of innovation, sharing experiences, and collaborating to amplify the impact of initiatives, this leadership presentation takes you on a journey, a voyage around the world, an adventure.

Structured around the 'key items' essential to pack into any leadership backpack, this keynote delivers a new appreciation for different cultures, an excitement for the future of education and a renewed passion for our young people.

BIOGRAPHY

Jen is a future focused educator with a vision to make schools better. Having lived, worked and travelled in 50 different countries in the past two decades, she has forged a career as an educator in progressive schools around the world. Jen's experience "on the ground" in trailblazing schools has given her a deep understanding of the mindset needed to implement change (and some of the challenges this presents). Jen is deeply committed to working with people to build innovative education opportunities.
